

Positions on Public Policy
Clean Production

Industry strives to produce products that have minimal impact on the environment during their production, use and ultimate disposal. Industry has committed to make health, safety, and environmental considerations priorities for all new and existing products and processes. During design, priority attention is given to the minimization of emissions to the environment throughout the lifecycle of the product.

Approved September, 2000